INTERDISCIPLINARY TRAINING

April 30th and May 1st

CLE Credit: This 2 day course has been approved by the Oklahoma Bar Association Mandatory Continuing Legal Education Commission for 14 hours of mandatory CLE credit, including 1 hour of ethics. Continuing education credit for other professions is pending.

Tuition: $350 for early-bird registrations with payment received at least four full business days prior to the seminar date; $375 for registrations with payment received within four full business days of the seminar date.

Cancellation Policy: Cancellations will be accepted at any time prior to the seminar date; however, a $25 fee will be charged for cancellations made within four full business days of the seminar date. Cancellations, refunds, or transfers will not be accepted on or after the seminar date.

Synopsis: This two-day course will teach attendees the fundamentals of interdisciplinary collaborative practice. Collaborative practice is a process of resolving legal conflicts through principled negotiations. Parties employ collaborative professionals who support them in reaching a settlement outside the adversarial process of court-imposed resolution. Interdisciplinary collaborative practice gives clients the benefit of expertise, assistance and support from the most qualified professional using a team approach.

Who should attend?

- Attorneys interested in learning or enhancing collaborative practice skills.
- Therapists from the following disciplines: psychologists, marriage and family therapists, clinical counselors, social workers in clinical practice.
- Financial specialists from the following fields: Certified Public Accountant, Certified Financial Planner, and Certified Divorce Planner.

Course Content: This two-day course will cover the interdisciplinary model of collaborative practice, and will include:

- Process options for clients: informed decision-making.
- The role of each collaborative professional (lawyer, divorce coach, child specialist and financial specialist).
- The process of working with an interdisciplinary collaborative case, from beginning to completion.
- The strengths and challenges of team work with other professionals.

9:00 a.m.-11:45 a.m.
 (Two 10 min. breaks)

Team Work in Motion: Donna Smalldon of Portland, Oregon, joined by Barbara Ann Bartlett, of Tulsa, OK, and Claudia Arthrell of Tulsa, OK, will present "How the Team Works in Motion". Learn how to make the team an integral part of the collaborative process as it is meant to be. Build trust in the team and in the clients. Learn how to communicate effectively to become a valuable collaborative team member.

11:45 a.m. - 12:35 p.m. Resources Available to the Collaborative Professional Nationally and International:
Talia Katz, JD, Executive Director of the International Academy of Collaborative Professionals will present a how-to guide on accessing the wealth of materials available to us. We are not alone in our quest to become collaborators. She will discuss everything from individual marketing strategies, to how to be better practitioners.

12:35 to 1:45 p.m. Lunch (provided) and discussion – how can OACP and IACP work to help you

1:45 – 2:45 p.m. Introducing Coach Protocols: At the last annual meeting we discussed the role of coaches and how they are essential in every case. Now we have drafted the protocols for coaches on the team. These protocols will be presented by Barbara Ann Bartlett of Tulsa, OK, Claudia Arthrell of Tulsa, OK Sarajane White of Tulsa, OK, and Jacquelyn Cleary of Tulsa, OK.

2:45 p.m. – 2:50 p.m. Break

2:50 p.m.-3:30 p.m. Launch Mentorship Program: Have you entered the collaborative practice but haven't had your first case? Have you started the collaborative practice but aren't comfortable with the fit? Collaborative practice is different from mediation and certainly different from the strong-arm negotiation of litigation. Start your collaborative practice out right by joining our mentorship program. In our mentorship program, newcomers will be paired with more experienced professionals.

Saturday's events are at no cost to OACP members and those attending training on Thursday and Friday
